

5th Norwegian-German Seminar on Public Economics

November 23 – 24, 2007

Call for Papers

On November 23 – 24, 2007, CESifo and the Norwegian School of Economics and Business Administration will organise the 5th Norwegian-German Seminar on Public Economics, to be held at Garmisch-Partenkirchen near Munich. The seminar will be arranged within the framework of the Ruhrgas Scholarship Scheme under the auspices of The Research Council of Norway and Stifterverband für die Deutsche Wissenschaft.

The conference invites the submission of papers from all fields of public finance. Both theoretical and empirical papers are welcome. Within the conference programme there will be thematic focus on public finance aspects of education economics. Provided we receive a sufficient number of qualified submissions, some of the sessions will be organized around this theme.

Preference will be given to papers from Norway and Germany, but a limited number of papers from other countries will also be accepted. Submissions from younger scholars are particularly encouraged. Papers should be submitted by e-mail (pdf-file).

Authors from Norway should send their submissions to:

Guttorm Schjelderup
